TUESDAY MORNING, SEPT. 6, 1858 PLAIN AND ORNAMENTAL PRINTING

The Premium List with the Rules and Regulations for the Twelfth Annual Fair, to be held at Cleveland, on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, October 5th, 6th and 7th, has been issued. The Premiums are numerous and liberal, and competition is open to all. One dollar constitutes a yearly membership of the Society; one admission, ten cents, thus placing access to of all. Ample arrangements for shelter to Presbyterian and Genesce Evangelist, died in place and the Mines.

way worthy of Cuyahoga County. The Fair is to be held in our City, and a large class of citizens can do much to give proper celat to the Festival of Art and Industry, if they will. It is their duty to do so, and a day or two spent in the matter will return rich rewards. Mechanics, Artisans, and Artists, Amateur Florists and Gardeners as well as Professional, have hither to taken too little interest in the County Fairs. They are home institutions, and therefore should be the more generously fostered. We have all the elements in Old Cuyahoga to make the Annual Fair equal to many State exhibitions, and if the City and Townships will put the Annual Fair equal to many State exhibitions, and if the City and Townships will put shoulder to the enterprise with proper spirit, we may at least lead the Western Reserve.

As the result of lengthy conversation with two or three intelligent gentlemen here, I am convinced that the erection of the proposed new convinced that the erection of the proposed new State would not at this time meet a very vigorous endorsement from the people. It is the scheme, most probably, of a lot of speculating and ambitious politicians, to whose mental vision wealth and political preferment in the shape of U. S. Senstorships, State offices, &c., loom delightfully up in the golden future. As the father, and mothers of the movement, they feel that the loaves and fishes would be, or at least should be, divided almost exclusively among them. This was prominently foreshadow. annuag them. This was prominently foreshadow-ed, I am told, at the Convention, held here on Thursday last, with reference to the new State. It was not very largely attended—its members comprised a large proportion of speculators—and some of the gentlemen named in the proceedings as its officers were not present in its deliberations, and are not known to be favorable to the enterprise. Sandusky, O., Sept. 1st, 1858. GENTLEMEN: The Provisional Executive committee of the Battle of Lake Eric Monu ment Association, appointed July 4th, 1852, at Put-in-Bay, in view of obtaining immediate and concert of action, in the brief time allowed for sultation on the 10th inst., respectfully offer the following suggestions:

1st. That the several delegations—where such selections have not heretotore been made—prior to the landing on the Island, select five of their number to set as their Executive Committee, and that the Naval and Revenue officers of the United States service in attendance, each select one or more persons for the same

21. That said Committees meet at the Flag

Staff near the dock at 11 A. M. 3d. That after consultation, a general meeting of all present be held, delegations introduced, and officers of the day chosen, and a report from the Committee be made of a plan for renewing the organization of 1852, or a new organization, for building a Monament on Gibral-tar, to commemorate the Battle of Lake Eric.

Le John C. Bishop, said to be an able law-yer, committed land frauds in Chicago to the amount of $100,000, and successfully cluded capture since April last. A large reward was offered for his arrest, and he was taken on the 15th ult, while crossing an Iowa prairie. He was on foot leading a horse, upon which was strapped a large bundle containing his papers. He was miserably dressed, his feet being encased in ragged moccasins, tied up with though of bark. His clothes were dilapidated and tied and sewed up with the same material. Had upon his head an old palm leaf hat. His beard and hair were very long, showing that he had avoided settlements, and had probably been endeavoring to escape detection by wandering upon the frontier for a long time.
